"Patchy" Saville Comes Back To Town and Gives the Boys a Fine Talk

Lieut. Col. Richard F. Saville of the Veterans Personnel Division of the Selective Service System, was speaker at Kiwanis Club meeting Monday night. Col. Saville, former Rockland resident, thoroughly conversant with provision for re-employment of men and women returning from military service, discussed the matter and conducted an open forum following his address.

Employers are to re-employ person returning from service in the same position they had when they left, provided they are mentally and physically able to perform their work and provided they make application within 40 days. Of the number already discharged from service, Saville said that 87 percent had been found eligible for re-employment. Fifty-one percent of the number returning have applied for jobs other than the ones they held when entering service, and 47 percent of that number desired training in other branches of industry. The speaker, introduced by H. L. Jackson, said that there were 622 men in the personnel division of the State standing ready to assist those returning to private employment.

Harry Hunt of Brewer was a visiting Kiwanian and guests of members were, Fred C. Black, John Beaton, Carl O. Nelson and Ray Grant, all of Rockland.

John R. Ham is a patient at Knox Hospital.

"Is Not Godless"

Neither Is Communism a Russian Movement, Said the Speaker At the Baptist Church

"Russia is not Godless," Dr. I. V. Neprash, founder and director of the Russian Missionary Service stated emphatically at the monthly Bible conference held at the First Baptist Church Tuesday night.

Dr. Neprash, who spoke from the same pulpit two years ago, said that there is more freedom with respect to religious matters in Russia than existed in 1942. He said that a mother could now speak about religion to her children after being barred by law for several years from giving any home instruction along religious lines.

"Communism is not a Russian movement," the speaker stated, but he did not say as to how it did get its start in that vast country. "Before the war Russia had a population of 193,000,000 and of that number only 3,000,000 were Communists," Dr. Neprash informed his hearers.

He told interesting stories of the religious services held in Russian prison camps outside of Russia. A friend of the speaker, after some difficulty, obtained permission from German officials to conduct a religious service in one of the camps. One thousand Russians were assembled and when the speaker announced that all who did not wish to hear about religious matter, might leave, only 15 departed.

The speaker was introduced by Rev. J. Charles MacDonald; Osmond A. Palmer led the song service, with Miss Charlotte Cook at the organ and Mrs. Nellie A. Maguire at the piano. Rev. Lloyd Workman, minister of the First Baptist Church in Jefferson, offered prayer.

Nelson Is Missing

Former Rockland Man Not Heard From Since In Action Over Germany, Feb. 10

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Nelson of Presque Isle have received a telegram from the War department stating that their son, S. Sgt. Russell E. Nelson, is missing in action over Germany since Feb. 10.

S. Sgt. Nelson is next to the youngest in the family of nine boys and three girls, and reached his 20th birthday Dec. 14, just before he left for England. He graduated from Presque Isle High School in 1941 and enlisted in the Air Corps in February, 1943. His training took him to many points including Miami, Fla., Denver, Colo., Euphrata, Wash., Salt Lake City, Utah, and Rapid City, S. D. He received his Wings and his aerial gunner rating while at Lowry Field, Colo.

Another son, Arnold Nelson is stationed at Fort Knox, Ky. Russell and Arnold Nelson are well known in Rockland, and were inducted under the Rockland board Russell worked here several years before his enlistment.

Town Votes To Buy War Bonds To Amount of $5000—Selectman Contests

There were only two contests in the annual town meeting at St. George Monday, Harold Dowling defeating Adelbert Simmons for second selectman, 55 to 20; and Howard Monaghan defeating A. Simmons, 60 to 10.

Among those especially missed from the sessions was the late Granville N. Bachelder, who had served the town as moderator for many years. The veteran Charles E. Wheeler was made presiding officer Monday. These town officials were elected:

Moderator—Charles E. Wheeler.
Town Clerk—Mrs. Mabel Rose.
Selectmen and Assessors—F. H. Smalley, Harold Dowling, Howard Monaghan.
Treasurer and Tax Collector—Joseph Simmons.
School Board Member—Wilford S. Robinson.
Road Commissioner—Allison Morris.

Fire Commissioners—Henry Allen and Forest Wall.

The appropriations, totalling $2000 more than last year, were:

School budget, $12,500; school building insurance, $125; school building repairs, $500; school bus insurance, $100; support of poor, $2300; aid to dependent children, $1500; board patients sanatorium, $300; board and care of children, $200; miscellaneous bills, $2000; officers' salaries, $3800; snow removal, $500; roads and bridges, $1500, plus excise tax.

To cover salary of Fire Chief and storage of engine, $1000.
Maintenance State aid roads, $972.90; winter maintenance, $434; soldiers' flags, $10; street lights, $700; fire department, $100; cutting bushes, $700; health nurse, $162; civilian defense, $200; doctor's bonus $1000; doctor's rent, $300; third class highway repair, $256; water holes, for fire department, $1000; public landing repairs, $300; advertising natural resources, $50.

Important steps taken by the voters were—
To sell the town farm.
To have five lights installed at Clark Island and four on Marshall's.

Made Many Visits

Eliza Steele's Report Shows How Busy Nursing Association Is

Miss Eliza J. Steele, R.N., visiting nurse for the Rockland District Nursing Association, reports that 1,054 visits were made during the period from Dec. 1, 1943 to Feb. 29, 1944.

There were class room inspections of all children in the grade schools each month and two well baby clinics, with Dr. Freeman F. Brown in attendance, were held, serving 38 children. Five of these children were inoculated against diphtheria at these clinics.

Seven social service cases were investigated. The more than one thousand visits made are classified as follows: 33 pre-natal patients; one delivery attended; 40 for post partum cases; 44 to new-born; 342 acute and chronic patients; 18 social hygiene cases; 20 tuberculosis patients; 56 other communicable diseases; 13 crippled children service; 278 health supervision of infants; 207 health supervision of pre-school children; and two health supervision of adults.

Point whenever this work can be done.

To pay 75 cents per hour for labor on roads and fire department, $150 per hour for 1 1/2 yard trucks with driver and $175 per hour for two yard trucks with driver.

The town has $11,000 on hand. The balance, after purchase of war bonds, will be used as a sinking fund.

SEARSMONT

Despite the rainy day, and the fact that a number of local men are away in military service or in civilian defense, there was a fairly good attendance at the annual town meeting at Dirigo Hall March 13. Following the reading of the warrant by the Town Clerk, Rev. Harold W. Nutter was chosen Moderator. Mr. Nutter called on Rev. Mary S. Gibson to offer prayer. The voters elected these officers for the ensuing year: Selectmen, Assessors, and Overseers of the Poor, Wyman G. Drinkwater, Ernest O. Sprowl, and J. Lawrence Robbins; Clerk, Aline W. Adams; Treasurer, Mrs. Harriet E. Knight; Member of School Committee, Hiram R. Davis; Collector, Ira J. Packard; Road Commissioners, Frederick R. Cross, Frank B. Jackson, and Frank B. Fuller; Constables, Ira J. Packard and Russell B. Knight; Fire Warden, Russell B. Knight.

These appropriations were made: Schools, $3525; Welfare, $930; Payment of debt, $750; Fire Equipment, $100; control of White Pine Blister Rust, $200; Erection of Plaque in honor of the local young men in Military Service, $150; Salaries of Officers and Collector's Commission, $1050; Roads and Bridges, $6880.50; Miscellaneous, $573.

A bountiful wartime dinner was served in the church vestry by the Woman's Society, and this was well patronized.

As Budget Committee for the ensuing year, the Selectmen appointed Mrs. Ora Bryant, Mrs. Harriet Wooster, Mrs. Mattie McPhail, Frederick Cross, Harold Cobb, Everett Hook, Don Lucas, Elden Madocks, Albert Marriner, Kenneth Plaisted, George Sibley and Byron Wood.

Knox County Unit

To Be Formed By Enlisted Reserve Youths Of High School Age

Major Henry S. Beverage, executive officer of the Maine Wing, Civil Air Patrol, spoke before 40 prospective Army Air Force enlisted reserve youths of High School age and about 10 prospective senior members of a Knox County Unit, which will be formed under direction of Richard P. Bird, in Community Building, Wednesday night.

The Knox County Unit will consist of a basic unit of between 15 and 20 senior members who are interested in flying or some branch of aviation following the war, and as many as possible High School youths of 16 years of age or older who will be eligible for induction upon graduation.

Both sections will be given training in military courtesy, drill, and pre-flight subjects such as meteorology, navigation, communications and other subjects which will aid them when they are taken by the Army.

The cadets will be uniformed and may wear these uniforms any place except while working at a job. They probably will meet to take prescribed courses of study under competent instructors from among local people, or Army, or Navy, perhaps twice weekly, at a location to be decided on in Rockland in the near future.

Applications for both seniors and cadets were given out at the meeting and may be obtained at High School in the county or from Mr. Bird.

Beverage pointed out to the seniors that such training as they will receive will be especially valuable to them after the war, if they want to fly, because the cost of such training under instructors in established flying schools will be quite high, whereas it will be at no cost except for textbooks in the C.A.P.

In the near future Beverage said he believed a fleet of perhaps four C.A.P. radio equipped planes would come to Rockland to give each cadet a ride, and while the courses of study include no actual flying experience for the cadets, from time to time planes would be in Rockland on inspection flights, and at these times there was a possibility of the cadets inspecting the planes.

There will be further meetings of Editor Webber of the Bath Times says that some of the sidewalks are commencing to make their appearance after being buried under several feet of snow most of the Winter. Rockland folks who thought they had a corner on this sort of thing will learn by a little inquiry that the condition was statewide. An abnormal quantity of snow and a minimum of manpower were too much for any municipality.

Some years ago the natives and newcomers in a small New Hampshire town became involved in a controversy over town improvements. When town meeting day arrived the newcomers found themselves up against a stonewall of opposition. The moderator, a native, challenged everybody who attempted to speak for the newcomers. One man who made the attempt was asked: "Native?" "No." "Resident?" "Yes." "How long?" "Seventeen years."

"Well, you set down and shut up. We don't want any transients talkin' here."

It's on again! People abbreviating the short months, March and April, and spelling out the long months. I never could understand their reasoning. But the month of May will have 'em stumped.

A Rockland man who died several years ago was widely known for his love of the national game of poker. He was engaged in that sport one night, and was in a fair way to grab off the "pot" with a good hand. At this important juncture he was called to the phone. Said an excited voice on the other end of the wire "Your the new unit as it forms and these will be announced by Richard Bird, who will be executive officer of the Knox unit rated as a second lieutenant.

house is on fire!" "Why tell me," replied the poker addict; "I don't belong to the Fire Department."

Unwilling that Town Clerk John L. Tewksbury or any other non-resident should take from Rockland the credit of having the first woman candidate for Representative to Legislature, Carl Moran informs me that Mrs. Lena K. Sargent was a Democratic candidate in Rockland back in 1928.

In one of his always interesting memory sketches Iree Member refers to residents of The Meadows as "Meadowites." My own recollections fall some years short of Iree's, but when I was a boy they were always referred to as "Medder Hens," and I lived far enough in the suburbs to be called one.

Clerk of Courts Milton M. Griffin emerged from World War No. 1 with nary a casualty but today he looks as though he had been in World War No. 2. Slippery ice, and a fall, face first, are the causes of his somewhat shattered appearance.

One of the clerks at the Court House has received a new and dignified title. Everybody will admit she is a jewel.

Owl's Head certainly lived up to its name Tuesday when Mrs. Marion Springer's cat "Timmie" caught a baby owl, and bore it in triumph to her owner.

Former Representative Lloyd Crockett of North Haven was in the city yesterday with his port eye draped in mourning and court plaster. He was sawing wood the other day when a stick flew directly into his face, rebounding (the wood) 40 feet. But it takes more than that to knock out a candidate for the State Senatorship, he says.

Mrs. Clara Smith reports the first crocus blossom of the season. Just around the corner is Spring.

In faraway countries
My thoughts turn to Thee.
O Erin, sweet Erin,
Thy tear and thy smile
Do charm me to ponder
Thy glories awhile.
I dream of thy future,

Thou'll reign in thy splendor
When empires are done.

Book Review

(By E. E. F.)

Jails, author, Louis N. Robinson, published by John C. Winston Co., Philadelphia. The sub-title of this much needed book is "Care and Treatment of Misdemeanor Prisoners in the United States." The author states, "The walls of the jails keep men and women in, and keep science and common sense out. Changes for the better are taking place, but progress is painfully and unnecessarily slow."

This book is an intensive study of theories and practice now the order of the day. Dr. Robinson has clearly shown needs for improvement. Here is a clean check-up of the lack of care of prisoners after they come back to regular citizenship. With the better knowledge of these facts shown in this excellent treatment, we may decrease crimes and build for future good citizens.

Keep this fact in mind: Thousands go in and out of jails each year. Are they equipped with better vision of living when they get out? If not, where is the fault? This is a worthy subject for every citizen to give real thought and help if possible to uplift those in need.

WORKING FOR VICTORY

Sgt. Martha Mulvaney and Corp. Marjorie Samuelson of the WAC recruiting station in Augusta were in Rockland Wednesday interviewing applicants. A representative from the Augusta station is usually at the office of the United States Employment Service every Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Beckett of Thomaston announce that the address of their son is: Pvt. Virgil L. Beckett Jr., Co. B, 221st B.N., 68th Regiment 31400782, Camp Blanding, Florida.

Mrs. George C. Mason of 15 Ingraham lane, Rockland, has received word from her husband, Pvt. George C. Mason, that he has completed his training at Fort Belvoir, Va., and has been transferred to the New York Trade School. His address is: 1244th SCSU, N. Y. Trade School, Class 31, New York 12, N. Y.

Mrs. Mildred Roberts of Rockport had two identical V-mail letters from her husband. They were dated March 4 and were both in same kind of envelope; both alike in every way. Evidently the letter was photographed twice as a mistake and both sent from same V-mail. Cpl. Lamont Roberts wrote as one letter. So there is no doubt that "V-mail" will reach its destination some times in double doses. Cpl. Roberts writes of the wonderful work done by Red Cross. He has seen much it has done for our boys away from home. So give and give.

Pvt. Ernest E. Johnson, son of Mrs. Marguerite T. Johnson of Masonic street, Rockland, wrote his mother, under date of March 8, an interesting letter from which we are permitted to quote, "Can't tell you where I am except to say I'm somewhere on the West coast."

It's a terrific camp here. The scenery is gorgeous and the barracks are very fine. The food is excellent too. As a gourmand would put it, the cuisine is superior. I wish you could see the scenery that surrounds the camp, especially the beautifully rolling hills, all green and foliaged."

Aviation Cadet David H. Curtis, has written his mother, Mrs. Clara T. Curtis of Rockland, that he is one step nearer those coveted "Wings of Gold," as he has successfully passed Pre-Flight School and is now stationed in Minnesota. His address is: Bks. 110, Locker 182, Minneapolis, Minn.

Pvt. Alton Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rogers of Ingraham Hill has this address: 31400763, Battery C, 6 Bn 2nd Reg. IARTC, Fort Bragg, N. C. He would like very much to hear from his friends.

Averell Robinson, S2c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robinson of Thomaston, has recently been transferred from Sampson, N. Y. His new address is: Gun Crew 2663, Armed Guard School, Shelton, U.S., Route 60, Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Julius Tarvainen has just learned that her son William Linde of Cushing has been promoted to Corporal. He is serving somewhere in England.

Sgt. Stephen Kirkpatrick who has been home on furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kirkpatrick in Union, has returned to camp. His new address is: Sgt. Stephen Kirkpatrick 31117712, 10th Tac. Rgn. Sgdn., Esler Field, Alexandria, Louisiana.

Mrs. John Thompson spent the weekend in Manchester, N. H., where she visited her son Gordon who at present is at Grenier Field. Bernard Thompson's address is: Bernard Thompson, S2c, Co. 1591 Quartermasters' School, Coddington Point, Newport, R. I.

Walking in upon her were Misses Ruby Prock, Melzine McCaslin, Arlene Fickett, Mary Studley, Mrs. Augusta Studley, Frankie Liuzzo, and Byron Chaples, of Rockland, and Mrs. Laura Shaw of Newport, R. I. Ruby Prock solemnly wandered into the living room, returning with a patriotic birthday cake, decorated with red, white, and blue candles. Games were played. [EDITORIAL]

THEY DON'T WANT WAR PRISONERS

In last Friday's issue we expressed editorially some curiosity as to how Aroostook County would receive the announcement that Nazi war prisoners were to be sent there to work on lumbering operations. We heard the answer three days later when an Associated Press despatch from Houlton stated that sharp objections had been expressed by the Houlton Grange. It was argued that the escape of prisoners across the nearby Canadian border might cause international complications in case of sabotage in Canada, the Grangers said. The Grangers also saw danger of sabotage to the airport's wooden buildings and felt that public uneasiness would result from lodging the prisoners there. The Courier-Gazette went on record several months ago against the importation of war prisoners to this zone. There might, it is true, be no actual peril, but the proximity of the prisoners would be a source of constant disturbance to the minds of people who have all along been congratulating themselves that they live in a free country. War prisoners do escape and terrorize the communities in which they are at large. Only the other night the radio told how such escapes had been abetted by so-called Americans. Let us endeavor to convince our Senators and Representatives that Nazi war prisoners are not wanted in this good, old Pine Tree State.

WILL SCOTT RUN FOR CONGRESS

Scott P. Kittredge, manager of the War Housing Center in Portland since its inception in 1941, has submitted his resignation, to become effective next Tuesday. His action gives currency to the report recently published in this newspaper that he might seek the Democratic Congressional nomination in the First District, where the party apparently believes it has some prospects of winning. Some Knox County Democrats who have objected rather strenuously to Mr. Kittredge's activities in local caucuses will be interested now to learn definitely that he has become a resident of another county. Should he run for Congress, and be elected, he would enter upon his duties with a considerable knowledge of Congressional methods. He was one time secretary to the late U. S. Senator Oodiah Gardner.

ROCKLAND IS TO BE HONORED

We learn from Washington sources that the name "Rockland, Maine" is to be given to one of the 50 Victory ships to be built at three Pacific Coast shipyards. Some weeks ago The Courier-Gazette voiced a lament that this city had never been thus honored, and immediately after reading the editorial Representative Margaret Chase Smith took up the matter with the department, which assured her that the matter would receive early attention. And it is doubtless due to her efforts that Rockland, Maine, is now to be included. "Because the Naval Trial Course is located here, and Rockland is so well known in Naval circles we had hoped that the name would be bestowed upon one of the new cruisers—but we are grateful at some recognition."

HAS FINLAND MUFFED THE BALL

That the Finnish government has rejected the Russian proposals for an armistice, and will continue to fight that country, is a source of extreme disappointment to the Allied Nations, and to the Finnish kinfolk who reside here in Knox County. Snap judgment in condemning Finland's stand would fail, however, to take into account the bitterness which the country has long maintained against Russia for reasons which cannot be clearly understood without delving into history. From the standpoint of policy, and her own welfare, Finland, it would seem, is making a grievous error.

YE GODS AND LITTLE FISHES!

Human interest items are carried by all of the national press associations and help engage the reader's attention when war news is scarce. But from Washington Wednesday, came the following despatch which is pretty nearly the limit:

The War Production Board appealed to the public tonight to pay no attention to the superstition that it's bad luck to light three cigarettes from the same match. Paper for making matches is scarce, the board said. Therefore, the more cigarettes that can be ignited with one match, the better for the war effort.

PEDESTRIAN WORST VIOLATOR

According to Lieut. George I. Shaw, director of the Division of Traffic and Safety, State Highway Police, the outlook for 1944 is not going to be a pleasant picture if personal injury and property damage accidents continue to increase, he says.

THE ISOLATION OF EIRE

If an enemy occupied Long Island and American forces, massing on the Connecticut coast to throw him out, were spied upon by enemy agents in a neutral Rhode Island (the most improbable supposition of all) the situation would be similar to that raised by Eire's neutrality. The situation is such that the steps Mr. Churchill is taking to isolate Southern Ireland can reasonably be presented as simple security measures. While the present measures have followed Eire's refusal to send the Axis envoys home, they do not appear to be designed to force such expulsion, but to be the best British-American substitute for Irish action.

Moreover, the British measures appear to be only extensions beyond Eire's borders of Mr. de Valera's own efforts to prevent his country from being used as a base by Axis spies. But will the people of Eire accept the logic of such an extension? Or of Mr. Churchill's reminder that if disaster came to British-American forces through information leaks in Southern Ireland, something worse than temporary separation from England or Northern Ireland would result—Christian Science Monitor.

American Legion in Rockland 25 Years Old—Past Commander Moran the Speaker

Winslow-Holbrook Post, American Legion, observed its 25th anniversary last night by holding dinner and meeting, with a good attendance of members. Three Rockland young men, veterans of the present war, Clifford Colson, Frank Larabee, Jr., and Edward Roberts, were made members at this meeting.

Past Commander E. Carl Moran, Jr., was the principal speaker. He gave credit to the American Legion for most of the good things being done for returning veterans today. "Best of all, the American Legion, through the years, has done a job for others besides its members, and for the future," he declared, "but there still is much to be done. The needs of World War Two will be greater and far different from World War One and our facilities may not be adequate," Mr. Moran, in the lively open forum, urged that men returning from this war become members of the Legion, and he answered questions on Ireland, Russia, Japan and the United States, and gave much attention to the municipal government survey to be started shortly by citizens. Mr. Moran is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee which recently reported results of a preliminary investigation. He stated that he had read every City of Rockland report from 1854.

Laurence K. Mansfield, eight years a post member, former proprietor of a dry goods store and more recently chief of police, presented his views on police protection and was given a farewell ovation. Mr. Mansfield is moving to Salem, Mass., where he has a position with a manufacturing concern.

Members of the post serving in World War Two are: Everett H. Oney, Roy V. Simpson, Edward B. Faulkingham, William T. Hull, Levi R. Flint, Robert C. Jewell, Everett A. Munsey, Kenneth P. Lord, Daniel Noonan and Everett Philbrook.

The membership at present is 230 under the highest number of members the post has ever had.

TALK OF THE TOWN

March 20—Rockport town meeting. March 20—Cushing town meeting. March 24—One-act play "Hold Everything" by Rockport High School at Town Hall. April 1—Knox Pomona meets with Hope Grange. April 8—Limerock Valley Pomona meets with Wessaweskeag Grange, South Thomaston. April 9—Easter Sunday. April 10—Kiwanis Club Easter Monday Ball, Community Building, Rockland. April 13-14—Republican State Convention in Bangor. May 2-3-4—Congregational Christian Conference at Bangor. May 4—Annual Conclave, Grand Commandery of Maine, at Portland. May 25-27—Annual Convention of Maine Federation of Music Clubs, at Rockland. June 23-25—Department Convention of the American Legion at Old Orchard Beach. June 27—Annual meeting of the Maine Medical Association in Rockland.

Lillian Nordica, Maine-born opera singer, will be honored today when a Liberty ship bearing her name goes overboard from the South Portland Shipyard. Mrs. Guy Gannett, president of the National Federation of Music Clubs, will sponsor the craft. Representative Margaret Chase Smith will be the matron of honor and Miss Jean Gannett, maid of honor.

Richard S. Stoddard and Manuel R. Winchenbaugh of Rockland, both with excellent attendance records at the Bath Iron Works, were guests on trip of a destroyer from Bath to Boston, Tuesday, Mr. Stoddard, on the return, came by airplane to Portland, where he was met by Mrs. Stoddard, who had been spending the day in Portland.

The item in Tuesday's issue with reference to Mrs. Wilder Irish, stated, unfortunately, that she was making her home in Monument Square, Portland. The error was due to the fact that the information sent to this paper was under a Rockland postmark, and simply said "Monument Square," without the name of town. Mrs. Irish is occupying the Bean house in Monument Square, Camden.

Owl's Head town meeting will be Monday.

At Junior High School Assembly Wednesday a Temperance program arranged by Miss Ida Hughes was presented. Carol Wolcott was announcer and introduced Mrs. Clara Emery, president of the W.C.T.U., who conducted a medal speech contest with a contestant from each room. They were Jean Young Gloria Curtis, Jane Mullen, Betty Staples, Elizabeth Crozier, Barbara Jackson, Elizabeth Brewster. All gave a fine exhibition and showed good coaching by their teachers. The W.C.T.U. Bronze Medal was awarded to Elizabeth Brewster, for excellence in presenting her selection. Patriotic souvenirs were given to all the contestants. The judges were Mrs. Gailcombe of the Senior High faculty, John M. Richardson of The Courier-Gazette staff and Miss Joan Lock, Senior student, member of the Thespian Society.

Stuart Fogelman, superintendent of the Whitmore Laboratories Wharf street, will be speaker at Lions Club next week.

Robert B. Lunt, who is to assume his new duties as superintendent of schools in Rockland and Rockport, April 1, was in the city Wednesday or a few hours. Mr. and Mrs. Lunt, their daughter Harriet W. Lunt, four years of age, and son, Robert B. Lunt, Jr., nearly two years of age, will occupy the Harold W. Look house at 78 Mechanic street. Mrs. Lunt is a Milford, Mass. woman. She studied two years at Boston University and took courses at the University of Maine, where she met Mr. Lunt. Mrs. Lunt did field work in mental hygiene for the University of Maine for a time. L. P. Bagley, principal of the High School at Sherman, is to succeed Mr. Lunt in the Island Falls section.

Mrs. Grace McWhinnie is employed at St. Clair & Allen's.

The Rotary Club expects to have, for its meeting today, a speaker on international affairs, who has spent much time in Europe. Members making up meeting out of the State, reported in this week's bulletin, were: Walter E. Bowe at Franklin, N. H., and the following in the State of Florida, Henry B. Bird at Miami; Kennedy Crane and George B. Wood at Punta Gorda; Dr. Alvin W. Post at Lake Worth and Lefort A. Thurston at St. Petersburg. Secretary Louis A. Walker reports that the attendance contest between the Damariscotta-Newcastle and Boothbay Harbor clubs for the month of February was declared a draw as each club had a solid 100-percent attendance for the entire month.

Mrs. Lola A. Catchings, a special recruiting representative of the U. S. Civil Service Commission in Washington, D. C., will be in Rockland, Wednesday, March 29 and Thursday, March 30 for the purpose of recruiting clerical personnel for duty with the various Government Agencies in Washington. Positions are available for Clerks, Typist and Stenographers at salaries ranging from $1,752 to $2,190 per year for the standard 48-hour week, with good chances for advancement. Mrs. Catchings will be available for consultation at the office of the local Civil Service Secretary, Post Office Building, Rockland. Simple qualifying examinations will be given and rated on the spot, and immediate appointments will be made.

HERE IS LIEUTENANT SNOW

Lieut. Edward Rowe Snow, one of the Rockland clan of Snows, has written an amazing book called "Storms and Shipwrecks of New England," now available at the Huston-Tuttle store. This book has out-sold any New England historical work of record. Lieut. Snow made a fine record in the air of Tunisia before being sent home a casualty.

The Committee on Municipal Research will hold an organization meeting Tuesday night at 7.30 in the Tower Room at Community Building. Sub-committee chairmen will be elected and plans discussed. The registration of volunteers will close Monday noon. Those who have not volunteered should register by calling Mrs. Savage at the Chamber of Commerce office. So far, 71 men and 38 women have volunteered to serve on the nine committees, classified as follows: Administration, 25; finance, 14; public safety, 13; education, 21; public works, 7; health and welfare, 10; civil service, 10; insurance, five, and legal, three. All members are urged to be present Monday night.

Nearly 21 tons of waste paper were collected this week by pupils of the Rockland schools. Joseph E. Blaisdell, principal of the High School, reported yesterday afternoon. The McMain Building led with 11,810 pounds collected and weighed. Other amounts were 8730 pounds at High School, 8530 at Purchase street, 7970 at Tyler Building, 4500 at Grace street, and 50 pounds at Crescent street school. No report has been received from the Benner Hill school. The grand total is 41,580 pounds.

Among those summoned for Grand Jury service at the April term of U. S. District Court in Portland is Theodore S. Bird of Rockland and for Petit Jury service Charles E. Lord of Camden.

Mysterious Purchaser Of $1000 War Bond Gives Impetus To Tyler School Drive

Great enthusiasm reigned at the Tyler School this morning when Mrs. Sarah Haskell, the principal, announced that $1165 has been raised for the jeep and that a fund of $601 remains in excess of the amount which was required.

It is expected that a jeep will be on exhibition at the school in the near future, and after the pupils have had a ride in it they will be spurred with new interest for the purchase of another.

The week opened with $570 needed to complete the payment on the first jeep, and the children were in a rather subdued frame of mind as to the prospects of negotiating it.

At this juncture came a good angel in the form of a purchaser of a $1000 bond—the name of that "good angel" to remain a mystery so far as the school is concerned.

But is Mrs. Haskell happy, and are those loyal young workers happy?

CHAPTER XVI

"The Dutch made us steel tripods for them in a machine shop, but had a hell of a time getting anyone to dig the holes. We were flying missions and couldn't do it ourselves. So Silva and I took the truck and went into Madiun. On the street corners we saw a bunch of natives standing around picking their teeth or scratching their bottoms. We argued they must be Jap sympathizers, or else they would have been busy helping win the war. So we pulled out our 45's, and by a coincidence they all got into that truck, and dug us some of the nicest foxholes you ever saw. After that, when the alarm would go off we could run to those foxholes and swing a gun—we knocked down five Zeros with them in the short time we were there.

"We were fixing up our planes, too. Our tail guns had finally cured the Japs of making attacks from behind. Now they were coming in from all directions, hunting for us in soft spots, feeling us out like we were some damn cat. And mostly they were hitting us head-on, because they discovered that in the nose we had only a single little .30-caliber. I guess the designers, after putting in those tail guns, had figured they could rest on their laurels, but you can never do that long in a war.

"So we got busy there on Madiun Field. We mounted a big .50-caliber down in the navigator's compartment, rigging it so it would fire out of the ventral. And for good measure we stuck in another .30-caliber.

"Since then they're carrying out this idea at the factory, but the only way any factory can learn what is needed is from the combat crews themselves.

"Those Jap pilots were smart. They'd fly their machines dressed like natives, so if they bailed out they could just walk away and mingle with the crowd. But we weren't afraid of them—even the Zeros with small numbers we had to. In the States a formation would be twenty-seven planes. Out there it was usually three or six. Three of us would be flying along, fifteen or twenty Zeros were hit, and we'd come back with a score of eight or nine. Maybe not all demolished, but hit so they had to leave—we'd see them going down in crazy spirals. We learned some tricks about those nose attacks. When we'd get to the target and had separated, each picking our transport, and the Zeros would hit us head-on, the pilot would point his plane directly at the Zero. This cut down the Zero's raking power, because it gave him a smaller silhouette. We were in his sights for a shorter time. We'd get some close shaves, though. I remember one day off Bali—we were out there bothering a Jap destroyer we could glimpse from time to time as the clouds sailed past—when all of a sudden over the interphones: 'Zeros coming up!' At first I heard nothing, and then our top turret gun started hammering—old Red up there couldn't get his guns that far down, but I guess he was just firing for the hell of it. Then all of a sudden—woosh! a Zero came up right square in front of my compartment window, so damned close I could see his guns smoking as they fired, even see the lands inside his wing gun barrels—almost head-on. He came up and over, and old Bird got him as he turned down behind.

"But about the time we got those new guns rigged in the nose, the Japs started staying away from us. We'd be flying along pretty as you please when a flock of Zeros would come into view, but staying well out of range—just looking us over. Then one of our gunners might fire a burst in their direction, just to let them know we were on the balls. Or sometimes the Zeros might come in for one or two wide, sweeping passes. But mostly they'd go off with their tails between their legs. Toward the last they only tried to get us on the ground. They knew we had no protection there to speak of—no fighters and no pom-poms. They'd come in insolent as could be."

(Meaning the gunners were in the ball turrets ready to fire.)

"That was the week I got into something way over my head in this liaison work," said Frank, "but first you ought to look at that big de luxe hotel which was the unofficial capital of Java. Its lobby, bar, and dining room were crowded with uniforms—British, Dutch, and American. It looked like a Hollywood costume parade.

"It was an enormous high-ceilinged spacious thing, open to the soft Javanese air—little tropical birds would fly in and out of the dining room and roost on the gleaming chandeliers.

"The Dutch are great eaters, and they have something they call resistance. You order it and then sit back and eat while twenty-three waiters line up and walk by your table, each carrying a different sauce or fish or bowl of relish or rice. I tried it once and managed to live by eating only every other course, but your true colonial Dutchman will stoke in all twenty-three into his big pot, drenching the layers down with mugs of beer.

"In the bar you might see the boys of Patrol Wing 10 in from reconnaissance, drinking Daiquiris (this hotel was Navy billeting headquarters), and I would see my old Hollywood High School classmate, John Robertson, sitting there in his off hours, very handsome in his Naval pilot's uniform, and with him was the most beautiful girl in Surabaya.

"She had dark hair, and an almost ghostly pale face that was sad in repose. Then a smile would quickly light it up, and you'd wonder how you could ever have thought that. And the most beautiful legs in the city. When she'd walk through the bar clinging to John's arm and looking up at him, even the oldest and crabbier admiral would rustle a little in his chair and lean out to give them a formal inspection. The younger Naval pilots envied John to the point where they would have hated his guts if they hadn't liked him so much.

"John was very busy and I don't think he gave her much thought, but still it's nice to have the most beautiful girl in town crazy about you, to the point where it even bothers the admirals.

"She was, so they said, a very high Dutch socialite and had lots of money, which you might guess by how simple and expensive her evening dresses were. In the daytime she wore a beautifully tailored uniform of one of the woman's volunteer organizations. I think she drove a car for the Dutch General Staff.

"Meanwhile my job was growing by leaps and jumps. In that hotel dining room you might see General Wavell, the British Commander in Chief, or Admiral Hart, or General Brett, who commanded the United States Army in the Philippines.

"I think because he was surprised to find Jacques there. One of us would surely have been able to make an outcry. And I thought to myself, 'Well, stranger, for a newcomer you're sure getting into a lot of things, because you never thought some guy you didn't know and had never bothered would ever try to kill you through mosquito netting in a place called Java.' The brief case was okay."

"And the queer thing was," said Margo, "that just at this time the report got back to America that Frank was dead. He'd been killed in a flying accident in Java. I was down in Florida by then, and the only man I could really talk to was Cliff Jensen, an Air Corps boy we had known at March and Albuquerque, and later at Morrison Field.

"He was stationed near by, and now was working twenty-one hours a day for the rest of the gang who were fighting in Java. I could really talk to Cliff—we understood each other. The rumor that Frank was dead somehow reached Australia, and of course the Air Corps is a small place. In a few days Colonel Truesdell in California heard it from one of the ferry pilots, and a few days later Cliff heard of it. He didn't tell me, because he wasn't quite sure, but some people thought it had really happened.

"I could feel the difference. They were looking at me queerly now. They would say that a fine boy Frank had been. Or that they were praying for his safe return. They never understood. They can't see that what you're anxious about is not the distant future, but this very night. Is he hungry? Must he go out on a mission? Maybe he's been badly hurt during the day, and you don't know it yet.

"Praying that everything will be all right during those weeks and months to come scares you—it's asking too much, you're afraid. You just pray he's all right tonight, and isn't wounded, and will get enough sleep, so he'll be strong and alert and have a good chance tomorrow. You don't dare ask more.

"Also those strong plump sunburned men who could leave their business for months to lie around on the Florida sands were very 'realistic' about the war—sure it was all a terrible mess and everything was going to pieces, offering me lots of sympathy. But what had any of them ever done to get us a decent Air Force in the past? Or what good were they in their 'realism' doing anyone now? I liked Cliff's better. He knew what the boys were up against and was up half the night trying to hurry reinforcements. Out of the little we had (and he knew how little), so they could hold what they could. Cliff made sense. The rest was a nightmare."

looked after them, only I'd catch them slipping in and out of mine at queer times of the day. But I thought I only imagined it. I also suspected they were listening in the corridor outside. One evening a couple of the pilots were down from Malang—going back the same night—sitting on my bed while we talked over new orders, and somehow a feeling grew on me we were being watched. I whispered to the others to go on talking, slipped off my shoes, tiptoed to the door. Just as I opened it I caught a glimpse of a white robe flitting around the corner. When I got out into the blacked-out corridor, I could see nothing. But then I was sure.

"That night I slept with my brief case under my pillow. In addition every bed was provided with a Dutch widow. At first the American pilots didn't know what to make of this and would kick them out on the floor. I should maybe explain that a Dutch widow is a long padded bolster, and if you sleep with it between your knees, it keeps your legs from pressing together and sweating in the tropical heat. After a while the pilots began to like them.

"But that night I went to sleep wondering about the white shape I'd seen flit around the corner. It was the same size as the waiter who had been staring at me in the dining room for the past three days. Only staring isn't quite the word. Because this particular little chick-picker had glassy eyes like a turtle. I could never catch them directly on me, but I had the feeling it was I he was interested in.

"Two nights later Lieutenant Jacquet came up from Malang. By the time we had finished work it was so late I suggested he'd better spend the night with me. I put my brief case under my pillow as usual. On this particular night it contained something so important I don't even like to talk about it now. Maybe that was why I slept uneasily. Or maybe because the whole outlook for the war was so bad. I realized in the Philippines I had only been lucky, and I might never get out of Java. It was very hot, and in the distance a thunderstorm was muttering as it moved toward the city.

"Anyway, I'd been lightly asleep for about an hour when a glare awoke me. It was a flashlight, held very close—a haze of yellow light coming through the mosquito netting over my face. But in this haze I could see that the same flat which held the flashlight also held a steel knife, and that its point stuck down into the yellow cone of that flashlight. The other hand was just touching the edge of my pillow.

"I gave a yell and dived through that netting like a cat, but the yellow light instantly winked out, and I was standing there alone in the darkness, while Jacques rolled out on the other side. He hadn't been as nervous as I, and was sleeping in one deep sleep. Just then the lightning flash lit the room, and by its quick glare I saw the door into the corridor closing (it was sure I had locked it). But when I got out into the corridor it seemed empty.

"Why hadn't he stabbed me? I think because he was surprised to find Jacques there. One of us would surely have been able to make an outcry. And I thought to myself, 'Well, stranger, for a newcomer you're sure getting into a lot of things, because you never thought some guy you didn't know and had never bothered would ever try to kill you through mosquito netting in a place called Java.' The brief case was okay."

Engagement Announced
Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Clayton Hemingway of Syracuse, N. Y., and "Glenhurst" announce the engagement of their daughter, Caroline Trowbridge Hemingway, to Lt. (j.g.) John Hall Norton, U.S.N.R., son of Mrs. Ellen J. Norton and the late Henry A. Norton of Wallingford and Madison, Conn.

Miss Hemingway attended the Goodyear-Burlingame School in Syracuse, graduated from the Ethel Walker School in Simsbury, Conn., and spent two years at Syracuse University. She is a member of the Syracuse Junior League. She is granddaughter of the late John J. and Laura Sampson Cooney, and great-granddaughter of James A. and Caroline Trowbridge Sampson, life-time residents of this town and whose ancestors were among the first settlers.

Lt. Norton was graduated from the Choate School and Yale University in 1939. He was a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity and Epsilon Club while in college.

No date has been set for the wedding as Lt. Norton is on active duty.

Frank, "we'd been full of the offensive spirit—sure we were going to roll the Japs back off the Philippines onto Formosa with those thousand planes which, according to rumor, were coming within three months. The second month was almost up now. Java was unsteady under our feet, and we'd so far received about two dozen P-40's, maybe a few more Forts than the rest, and seven dive bombers. Hardly fifty planes in all. "Now we knew the offensive was out for the time being. What we prayed for was fighters—to defend what was left of our Forts and those beautifully camouflaged Dutch airfields. With fighters to hold them off, we knew we could hold Java."

"All right, suppose the Japs had moved into Timor and cut the jugular vein from Australia, so that our P-40's could no longer hop on the island chain to us on their belly tanks? Why not a carrier? Couldn't the Navy spare just one—which could load up with P-40's in Australia and then, when it was still several hundred miles from Java and out of range of the Jap bombers, it could turn the P-40's loose, let them fly in on us, and go back for another load?"

World Parish Day

Will Be Observed By Warren
Baptists Next Thursday;
Interesting Ceremonies

Rev. A. F. Ufford

World Parish Day will be observed Thursday at the Baptist Church in Warren, starting at 5 p. m. with a social hour, and continuing with the supper period at 6 and the evening service opening at 7:30. Rev. A. S. Bishop, the pastor, has arranged an interesting and worth while program, and speaker will be, Rev. A. F. Ufford missionary in China since 1908, a native of Fairfax, Va.

Rev. Mr. Ufford has spent 32 years in Shaohing, his chief work during that period, being the care and nurture of the Chinese Churches, whose membership over that third of a century, has grown from 100 to 1,400. For many years he served as evangelistic adviser to the Chekiang-Shanghai Baptist Association. Since the outbreak of the Sino-Japanese war, July 7, 1937, Mr. Ufford has been engaged in an ever increasing program of relief administration. Just before returning home on furlough, December, 1941, accompanied by his wife, he faced great danger in bringing hospital and other supplies through the Japanese blockade of the China coast.

Rev. and Mrs. Ufford have been interested in the training of Chinese youth. In their work as teachers in the Yuih Kwang Academy of Shaohing and in their contacts with their students in the University of Shanghai, they have always held before them, a life of service. It is significant, that the secretary of the China Baptist Publication Society, the Baptist representative on the faculty of the Nanking Theological School, and the District pastors in Ningpo and Shaohing are all Shaohing men. In all this program they have always worked in the closest harmony with Chinese leaders in the Christian Church.

In the tragic years great suffering has come to the children of China. Rev. and Mrs. Ufford have assisted in the organization of the Children's centers in Shaohing, which later became known as "The Hundred Starving Children" of Shaohing. Beginning in a modest way with 12 children, this work grew until 1200 were being cared for at the time the Uffords came home on furlough. The confidence felt by the Chinese public in this work is shown by the fact that a Chinese friend in a period of 12 months gave $32,000 toward the work.

Rev. Mr. Ufford was graduated from Vermont Academy and the University of Vermont. Graduating from the latter in 1901, he accepted the position of the first general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. at the University. In 1902 he entered the Newton Theological Seminary from which he was graduated in 1905, following which he served for three years as pastor of his home church in Fairfax, Vt.

Thursday, between 5 and 6 pictures of former pastors of the Baptist Church and of service men and women connected with the church will be on exhibition. Also shown will be posters of Sunday school work, and posters from Headquarters. This hour will also be the social period.

Rev. A. S. Bishop will speak briefly during the supper hour.

The 7:30 service will open with the reading of a roll call of men and women in the service of the country and continue with two recordings, which will include the presidential address by Rev. Joseph C. Robbins, D.D., president of the Northern Baptist Convention, and the second recording, "The World Service Program" of Northern Baptists" by Rev. Earl Frederick Adams, D.D. General Director Council on Finance and Promotion.

The service of consecration and rededication will be by Rev. Mr. Bishop. Special music is planned.

Alewives of the season have been sold to the Medomak Canning Co. of Winslow's Mills for 75 cents a bushel, which is between 85 and 90 cents a barrel more than received last year for the surplus catch. The fish caught by the town crew will be delivered at the fish house here, according to first selection George W. Starrett. The past two seasons the alewives have been canned by the Ramsdell Canning Co. of Rockland for the government, as lease-lend supplies. The first were then processed as are the fresh salmon of the west coast. Received from the alewife pack of 1943, was the sum of $1978.19. Cost of taking the fish by the town amounted to $1694.88, hence the net proceeds to the town amounted to $283.31.

The High School minstrel, "The Mirthquake" will be presented tonight at 8 at Glover hall, followed by a dance. The proceeds will be divided among the four classes and the student council. Catchy routines and specialties have been worked out by Principal Perkins, who has charge of the endmen. Miss Verna Robinson, who has full charge of the music, will put over toe-tapping rhythms in chorus work and in the specialties.

Schools will close today for one week.

The Pleasant Farm Bureau will meet Tuesday at 10:30 at the home of Mrs. George Starrett. The hostess will serve coffee, and members will take box lunch in order to shorten the dinner hour, for the day will be devoted to "Caring For the Sick in the Home." Miss Joyce Johnson, home demonstration agent will be present. Anyone wishing to take the course, who is not a member of the Farm Bureau, may do so by contacting Mrs. George Starrett or Mrs. Walter Starrett. The second installment of this course will be March 28, at the home of Mrs. Roger Waugh.

Dorcas Circle of King's Daughters will meet Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Barrett.

Mrs. Chester Wylie, treasurer of the Red Cross, reports: Union Farmers Co-operative Trading Club, $63.84; Woman's Club, $36.05; individuals, $35.55; total $135.44. Quota is $1325.

Mrs. Chester Wylie has accepted the position of second assistant at the High School, replacing Mrs. Auvema Currier of Dryden, who resigned in December. Mrs. Wylie will teach world history 1, government 4, English 2 and 4, and civics 2. She will begin her teaching duties March 27.

The Master Mason degree will be conferred Monday at a special meeting of St. George Lodge, F.A.M. Supper will be served at 6:30.

Sermon topic Sunday morning at the Baptist Church will be "A Crucifixion or a Coronation." At 7 p. m. following an opening devotional service, film views of the Rocky Mountains and Western ranch life will be shown. Church school will meet at 12.

Sermon topic Sunday morning at the Congregational Church will be: "Deliverance From Fear," with Rev. Lynn V. Farnsworth of Camden in the pulpit. Church school will meet at 9:30 a. m.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition. It is something you can't ignore. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, low of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Colby College is offering "State of Maine Scholarships," applications for which must be submitted not later than April 15. The dates of the contest are April 28 and 29—the contest consisting of two parts: tests to determine scholastic aptitude, general culture, and traits and personality; and the informal part, consistings of personal interviews and some form of group activity. Several Freshmen scholarships will be awarded to both men and women, the number and amount depending upon the number and qualifications of the applicants. The awards will cover full or half tuition for the first two terms in college.

In the Physics class, Wednesday, some glass samples were passed around. This was fiberglass, some of which was as soft as angora. This is used for reinforcing plastics, filtration, and other mixtures. Some are in the shape of small glass fibers which are very brittle, which have the same uses as the other. A kit on "Glass" accompanied the class work, in which Ernest Munro was the announcer and Vance Norton was the informant.

The National Thespian Society will meet at 7:30 next Tuesday evening in Room 14. The initiation of 10 members is planned. This meeting will also be the occasion for the first showing of the Thespian Project Play, "Freedom of Religion." All former Thespians especially those home on furloughs, are cordially invited to attend—Charlotte Cowan.

Attendance sheets are being made for the forenoon by Muriel Adams and Doris Chapin, and for the afternoon by Mary Studley.

The following persons will make up the stage committee for the State-One-Act Play contest preliminaries which take place in the auditorium March 31. Stage manager, Albert Hollowell; assistant stage manager, Douglas Curtis; members of the stage crew, James Burns, Ervin Wooster, Lawrence Blood, William McLellan, Robert MacWilliams, Morris Perry and Robert Gatcombe—Charlotte Cowan.

An interesting experiment was performed in chemistry class Wednesday morning which consisted of the etching of glass. This was done by first covering a plate of glass with melted wax. The wax was cooled and then names were scratched into the wax. Next the plate was covered with hydrofluoric acid and left to dry overnight. In the morning the wax was scraped from the glass and there remained the name of each student and Mr. Sturtevant, etched on the glass—Norma Blom.

In speed drills, conducted in the Junior Typewriting class this week, Barbara Allen wrote at 72 words per minute; Vina Delmonico at 67; Lois Clark, 65; Almee Karl, 63; Barbara Mealey, 54; Evelyn Sweeney, and Virginia Derby, 52; Norma Ramsdell, Glennis Ames, Sylvia Adams, Barbara Brewer, Elizabeth Sawyer, Doris Chapin, Norma McCallis, 50.

Lions Ladies' Night

Eighty Attended Happy Affair At The Thorndike—Hildreth Guest Speaker

Horace A. Hildreth, the guest speaker

The return of the Rockland Lions Club to its former "den" in the Thorndike Hotel was a triumphant event Wednesday night, combining as it did, the always popular feature "ladies' night." Included in the group, which numbered about 80, was a goodly and jolly delegation from Camden, and a special welcome awaited Lion Frank A. Tirrell, whose absence from the meetings in recent weeks, was necessitated by another hospital ordeal, from which he is rallying in a most satisfactory manner.

The guest speaker, Horace A. Hildreth, was accompanied by his wife, and that charming lady was received with the never-failing hospitality of Knox County folk.

It was the first banquet of sizable proportions since the Thorndike Hotel reopened its doors and to Manager Berliawsky and his associates goes the admiration of those who marked the ease and speed with which the various courses were served. The piece de resistance was Baltimore broilers.

King Lion Lawrence J. Dandeneau presided in his usual happy manner at the head table, and Leonie headgear is doffed in honor of the fine service performed by the entertainment committee comprising William H. Romanoff and J. N. Southard.

The Lions held which was "pilfered" by a Camden delegation several weeks ago made its reappearance somewhat mysteriously, and an attempt to repeat that heinous crime was nipped in the bud by Sheriff Ludwick and Stewart Orbeton, who exhibited marked ability for their age.

The singing of Lions songs was directed by those two experts, How-

Introduced as "possibly Maine's next Governor," Mr. Hildreth received a most cordial greeting and his address on post-war work earned the closest attention of the audience.

Hildreth declared that a prime problem of government in postwar planning was "to help industry and not to threaten or bludgeon it to the extent that it is afraid to try to assume the expanding economic role it had prior to the assumption of power by the New Deal."

Hildreth, said that Maine was a State of small businesses and that its future in this respect depended largely upon government's attitude to business in the postwar era.

"If private business with the helpful attitude on the part of government is unable to solve its problems then Government will step in but Government, in my opinion, should not scare private initiative out of the field by throwing the vast resources of Government into competition with private business. Government should be a pinch-hitter and not the lead-off man in the batting order," said Hildreth.

He also urged that State Governments assert themselves and regain their sovereignty and "stop being bullied around by the Federal Government."

"In any kind of postwar planning we must first of all curb the control of the Federal Government over State Governments," he said. He declared that one way to do this was by passing a constitutional amendment limiting the amount of taxes the Federal Government can take by way of Income Taxes.

The singing of Lions songs was directed by those two experts, How-

Laughs In Camden

When the Pin-Up Boys, In Feminine Attire, Defeated Girls At Basketball

In the annual Girls' versus Boys' basketball game the local Pin-Up Boys defeated the Girls 31-27. The boys didn't seem to be bothered at all by their skirts and tailed all 31 points according to girls' rules. Tim "Patty" Grindle and Walter "Gertie" Wadsworth paced the boys with six points each to their credit. Dwinall paced the lasses with 10 points followed by Rankin with nine points.

At the close of the first quarter the Pin-Up Boys led 8-6. The Girls rallied to take the lead by a 15-14 score at the half. The Boys edged out a 24-23 margin at the third period and maintained their lead throughout the fourth period to come out in front 31-24. One unfortunate had lost his skirt in a tussle during the third period but time was immediately called while he fixed it.

When it was learned that no referee had been obtained for the big game Mr. Payson of the high school faculty immediately volunteered his services for which the Girls were very grateful. The referee wore a dress of bright blue color with short yellow stockings contrasting to the bright dress. He wore a turban wrapped around one little curl, also a set of blue earrings. Despite his outwardly appearance in dress Mr. Payson did a fine job in refereeing and all who saw his exhibition of the Girls' rules will agree that he did a very fair job.

This game was preceded by the varsity scrimmaging the second team of Boys with a 44-24 score with the Boys' varsity on top.

The Girls also had a short scrimmage with Capt. Fish's team setting a 13-2 defeat on Capt. Stanley's team.

The Band rendered such popular pieces as "Stars and Stripes" and "Malruy Dooties." Thus ends the basketball season. *Please note Mr. Payson also wore bright red fingernail polish.

FRIENDSHIP

Albert J. Hussey has returned home from Port Clyde, where he passed the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Jennie Teel. Being in ill health, he was accompanied home by his daughter and Mrs. Grace Lundenson of Rockland who is caring for him.

Ray Orne, U.S.N. called last Friday on his aunt, Mrs. C. L. Fales.

Charles E. Jameson, Cox, U.S.N., arrived home Tuesday on 10-day leave from Richmond, Va.

A farewell party will be given Friday night for Austin Havenor who will leave soon for the Army, and for Fred Nord who is to enter the Navy. Mrs. C. L. Fales entertained a party of friends Monday at a clam chowder supper in honor of Mr. Nord.

PORT CLYDE

Evangelistic Services
The Advent Christian Church will have a week of special evangelistic meetings from March 19 through March 26. Meetings will be held Sunday at 10.30 a. m. and 7 p. m., also every week night but Saturday at 7.30. These meetings will be under the leadership of Leslie Mark and Robert Fillingier, students at the New England School of Theology in Boston.

Mr. Mark is a second year student at the school. He is a native of Meriden and was converted under the evangelist of Port Clyde, when he was preaching at the White River Junction Camp Meeting in Vermont several years ago.

Mr. Mark also plays the trumpet and will use it in the meetings here.

Mr. Fillingier is a native of Los Angeles, California, is 20 years of age and a third year student at the school. Both he and Mr. Mark will sing and preach the Gospel. Both are planning to enter the ministry upon the completion of their studies.

Sent To Washington

Virginia Cannon, 52c, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cannon of Rockland, after completing her basic WAVE training five weeks ago, was sent on direct assignment to the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery in Washington, D. C. Before entering the service she was a junior supervisor in the local telephone exchange.

Edward O'Brien Burgess died suddenly March 12 at his home in Thomaston.

He was born April 4, 1869, one of six children of William Carey and Ann (Wakefield) Burgess, who were natives of Warren. He graduated from Thomaston High School in 1879, the other member of the class being the late Dr. O. F. Cushing, and followed the sea for two years.
These experiences before the most inspired the highly interesting
"Pardner" stories which he recently contributed to this paper.

Returning to Thomaston, he entered the employ of the Burgess, O'Brien Co. later Dunn — Elliot Co. retiring from business in 1927. In 1886 he was married to Lizzie O.
Wilson of St. George, who died after 24 years of most happy union. One daughter, Harriet, was born to them.
In 1921 he married Lina Pendleton Brown of Warren, whose death in 1922 was his second great bereavement.

Mr. Burgess united with the Baptist Church at the age of 14, became a deacon in 1888, and was church clerk for many years.
Through all his life his true Christian spirit was an inspiration to the young people of his church. He was a lifelong Democrat and had served as town treasurer and member of the school board. He was a charter member of Arcana Lodge, K.P., and Mayflower Temple, P.S.
He took pride in the medal awarded him in 1935 as a 50-year member of the Masonic order.

He is survived by his daughter,
Mrs. Norman Wolf and three grandsons.

In the death of Mr. Burgess Thomaston mourns the passing of another well known citizen who had added to the town's lustre and fine reputation. Active in its business affairs and prominent in its civic and church life, he had come down through the years bearing the ill will of no man, but liked and honored by all who had come in contact with his genial and companionable personality.

Funeral services were held at the Davis parlors Tuesday afternoon.
Rev. Donald Perron, a former pastor offered prayer and the sermon was preached by Rev. H. W. Flagg.
The bearers were Arthur Elliot,
Richard O. Elliot, Charles Starrett and Edward Newcombe.

A Rubinstein Visit

Rockland Club Entertained With Fine Program By Thomaston Society

The Rubinstein Club was a guest
Friday night of the Thomaston Baptist Choral Society in Thomaston. A delightful program was presented by the senior and junior choirs and soloists.

The voices which comprised the choral group were: Mrs. Leona Starrett, Mrs. Katherine Veazie, Misses Margaret Simmons, Nellie Tibbetts, Grace Paulsen, Joanne Vinal, Hope Paulsen, Dr. H. W.

choir were: Joan Young, Charlene Spaulding, Audrey Young, Louise
Spear, Diane Sawyer, Warren
Whitney, Carl Morse, Theodore Strong, Edward McEllan, Donald Paulsen, Summer Ward.

Well appointed tables were scattered over the vestry, the centerpieces being of jonquils, statils and pussy willows, and presided over by Mrs. H. W. Flagg, Mrs. Starrett, Mrs. Veazie, Miss Simmons and Miss Tibbetts. Those assisting were Misses Paulsen and Vinal and the junior choir. A committee on preparations comprised Mrs. H. H.
Newbert, Mrs. Willis J. Spear and Charles M. Starrett.

That exceptionally well informed writer in the New York Herald Tribune, Clementine Paddleford, gives a lot of space to black bean soup, and well she may. The possibilities in a can of this delicious soup are many. As she explains, the really best way to dress it up for a rather full meal in itself is to have one slice of lemon in each plate with hard boiled eggs shredded all over the top of the plate. This gives it a real party look and whets the desire for more and more. Adventures are possible with other methods of procedure, a bit of sherry for flavor, or celery salt, a 1/2 clove of garlic. Again for a change, add a tablespoon of peanut butter well thinned out with milk to the dish and a bit of whipped cream in blobs over the top of each dish. Take your choice, or better, try each method until you find your long wished for soup.

SERMONETTE

A LENTEN MEDITATION

This has been a long cold winter. There is a strange analogy between the climate and these Lenten days. Lent is always a sober, almost somber period, calling for personal sacrifice and denial; but at the same time, it is time of preparation for the brighter and more joyous days ahead.

These last of winter days, with snow and ice still on the ground, are busy days of preparation for farmers; they know spring is close at hand. The church accepts the obligations of Lent yet looks eagerly toward Easter. The trains run close to the great farms of Cumberland, Yarmouth and Pownal and the traveler notes the heavy farm trucks depositing great heaps of manure on ground plowed late in the fall, or to be at hand on sunny slopes, when nature calls for its enriching power.

It is yet too early for robins and bluebirds, nevertheless trees indicate that the sap is running and the brooks are wearing the look of springtime. On March 11 my neighbor's yellow crocus was in full bloom with many snowdrops keeping company and telling all and sundry, "Spring is here." Farmers and school boys know the signs of March but they are not thinking of assassination, but of drying winds and flying kites.

If you are keen of eye you will see in the streets glass agates that slipped away from the school boy. The March winds still hold some of the sting of winter and for older folk the March hill is hard to climb. Soon the days of ashes will pass and the churches and the countryside will burst into the glory of the Eastertide. All will be better for these days of meditation, preparation and prayer.

Aye! very soon, hearts will beat in unison with the returning song birds. "Joy to the world! the Lord is come; Let earth receive her king; while fields and floods, rocks, hills and plains, repeat the sounding joy, and wonders of His Love."

William A. Holman

This Sunday at the First Baptist Church prayer meetings will be held at 10:15 for men in the pastor's study and for women in the vestry. In the morning service at 10:30 the Pastor, Rev. J. Charles MacDonald, will conclude his messages on the Bible's peace plans by speaking on "The Prince's Peace Plan." The Church School will meet at noon with classes for those of all ages. At the Universalist Church Sunday morning worship is at 10:40 with Dr. Lowe preaching on "The Dignity and Worth of Man." Soloist, Miss Lotte McLaughlin. Parents of children of pre-school age, will rejoice to know our splendid nursery department, meeting in the children's room, during the service of worship, will begin holding regular sessions this coming Sunday. The department is under the direction of Mrs. Constance Daniels assisted by Mrs. Neva Wiggin. All other departments of the Church School will meet in the vestry at noon. Thursday at 7:30 p. m. the Quiet Hour service in the vestry with the minister speaking on "The Mind of Christ."

"A Victory of Faith Over Slight" will be the subject of the pastor's sermon at Pratt Memorial Methodist Church at 10:45 a. m. Sunday morning. The Church School will meet at noon. Youth Fellowship will meet at 6 o'clock. The pastor will preach at 7 o'clock. The Boy Scouts meet on Monday at 7:30. Following the Prayer meeting on Tuesday there will be a choir rehearsal.

At the Nazarene Church, Maverick Square, services Sunday will be as usual: Church school at 2:30; afternoon worship service at 3; and Young People's meeting at 6:30, followed by the evening evangelistic service at 7:30. Rev. Curtis Stanley will preach.

"Life Eternal—The Judgments of God" will be the subject of the fourth Lenten sermon of a series on "The Great Themes of The Christian Faith" being delivered by Rev. Roy A. Welker, pastor, in the Congregational Church. The services are held at 10:45 a. m. Church School sessions are at 10 a. m. and 10:45 a. m. The comrades of The Way will meet in the Chapter rooms at 6:30 p. m. The guest speaker will be Miss Marion Ludwick of the High School faculty. The next Circle Supper will be held March 22 at 6:15 p. m. Mrs. Bernice Havener will be chairman.

At St. Peter, St. John and St. George (United Episcopal Parish) Rev. E. O. Kenyon, rector, services for Mid-Lent Sunday will be: Holy Communion at St. John's, 8 a. m.; Parish Mass at St. Peter's, 9:30 and Church School, 10:45; Vespers, (St. George's, Long Cove) 4 p. m.; Short Retreat for young people of the parish at 7 to 9 p. m.

Baptist Men's League

President Hauck, U. of M., Tells Of Trip To England In War Time

Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, president of the University of Maine, was speaker at the March meeting of the Baptist Men's League last night.

Dr. Hauck, always welcome as a speaker in Rockland, told of his impressions of Ireland, England and Wales, when on a trip to the British Isles last Summer to study educational conditions.

Dr. Hauck made the trip by clipper, landing in Southern Ireland. His several contacts in that country, now much in the news, was of a most cordial nature. He said that during the bombing of London, up to that time, 1,150,000 homes had been destroyed or partly damaged, and that churches and church property meeting the same fate totaled some 13,000, while there were 1,400 schools destroyed or damaged seriously.

"Nazi bombers built up more than they destroyed," Dr. Hauck declared, referring to the high morale and fighting spirit of the people of Britain. He gained the impression that, "Material things do not count as much as we thought." In a visit to much bombed Dover, he talked with a farmer, plowing around large deep holes made by the bombers, who seemed to stress, more than the upset earth, the prevalence of "cursed cut-worms."

Visits to schools brought out the fact that the youngsters were "healthy, happy and pretty much normal." Dr. Hauck said that production of food in the isles had been increased so that home grown food would feed, according to statisticians, the people from Sunday through Thursday, whereas before the war, the home grown food would only cover the needs from Sunday through Tuesday noonday meal. "Every child under six years of age has a pint of milk each day," the speaker said. Production of potatoes had been increased during the war but the production of hogs, beef and other meats, and eggs was decidedly down.

Six million acres of land had been added to the productive area, and there was a land army of some 100,000 women workers, groups working even in lumber mills, handling the heavy material. He spoke of the large numbers of men and women of the United States in uniforms on London streets, and said, "We can be very proud of our men and women in the service."

Vice President Everett S. Blethen conducted the meeting, in the illness enforced absence of Raymond D. Bowden, president. Following Dr. Hauck's talk there was an interesting open forum. The speaker was introduced by Joseph E. Blaisdell. The guests included Samuel Szak, assistant faculty manager of athletics at the University of Maine, who accompanied Dr. Hauck to Rockland; J. Arthur Blackman, Walter C. Ladd, Arthur H. Robinson, John Robinson, Austin Joy and Albert T. Adams. Chicken supper was served by The Jolly Eight, with Mrs. Elvie Wooster as chairman.

PORTLAND HEAD

The past week has been quiet. Mrs. R. T. Sterling has been ill with a cold but is much improved. R. T. Sterling calls regularly on Alfred Elden who has been ill for months.

The Hills entertained Sunday Miss Nannie Kinney and Mrs. Lilian Brown of Portland.

Robert T. Sterling Jr. was guest Sunday afternoon at the home of his parents here.

March seems to be going right along. Soon we shall be hard at it with regular Spring cleaning. March is also a very popular word these days when our boys are all marching into war. America is proud of its boys and every time they have to call in the Yanks in order to win. Seems as if it's about time they fight their own battles overseas.

SEARSMONT

Pvt. Manley Fuller has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Agnes Fuller and other relatives, while on furlough from his military duties at Camp Howse, Texas.

The Woman's Society met Thursday with Mrs. Harold Cobb to make further plans about the annual town meeting dinner.

Mrs. Dorothy Smith and sons Robert and Maurice of Hallowell visited their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Minerva Packard, recently.

Mrs. W. D. Byers has returned home from the Baker Memorial Hospital in Boston.

Killed in Car Crash

William Sack, a former resident of this town, was one of four employees of Grumman's, Freeport, N. Y., who met their death when the car in which they were riding was recently struck by a train at a grade crossing.

Mr. Sack was a native of Germany, but came to this country in his youth. Except for one year spent in this town, he had lived in Freeport since 1928. He was employed as a stationary engineer. Of a quiet temperament his interests centered largely in his home and his work. He was a kindly man, as shown by the words of his landlady, following his untimely death. She said: "He was going to chop kindling wood for me today. He was always doing little favors like that for people."

Mr. Sack is survived by a widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Sack, a son Frank, and a daughter, Mrs. Katherine Vorbeck, all of Freeport, and another daughter, Mrs. Helen Siegfried of Southampton, N. Y.
